

The ASA Network of Applied Anthropologists

Would you like to join us?

Apply is a network of anthropologists working in a variety of settings, all doing work that we describe as ‘applied’ or ‘engaged’

Through us you can access:

- An email list for events information and job vacancies
- A website with information about careers in anthropology
- An online directory of applied anthropologists
- Events and workshops arranged by network members
- Meetings to discuss and plan network activities

We're always looking for new members
